Mixed-Up Cocktail Relay

Add a twist to your next event with a cocktail relay!

The Pantages Hotel is proud to offer you this innovative and interactive enhancement to add to your upcoming function, or as a corporate retreat or social event. Choose from a selection of fun and fashionable drinks, learn how to make them, and then bring out your competitive side. Our 'Master Mixologist' will host each Mixed-Up Relay. He or she will set the rules, give the directions, and referee as your teams create cocktails that are judged on taste, timing and presentation. Your event will begin with a welcome glass of sparkling wine, cocktails throughout the competition, along with a cheese board and hors d'oeuvres station.

As for the winners of the event, you'll have to wait and see!

Smart Phone Mission

Welcome to the future of scavenger hunts!

Combining new smart phone/tablet technology with this thrilling team building experience, it's an event like you've never seen before! Teams compete using their iPhone, android or tablet's using the free app provided. Teams will become very social, creative and collaborative while engaging the entire time.

Adventures in Excellence will tailor this exciting program to your event, with tasks ranging from fun and creative to outrageous and hilarious. The goal is to encourage team collaboration, intuitive thinking and create a memorable experience while supporting each other through the team challenges.

This app allows participants to always see where they stand in the rankings, view other teams' images and points, and more! Teams have opportunity to experience downtown Toronto, and use the hotel staff members and Toronto locals to produce their creations. The facilitators are able to monitor the teams from a desk top where additional points can be awarded for mind blowing creations and more! Once complete, we will take the photos and put into a video presentation with music for the entire group to view & celebrate!

Personality Dimensions is a temperament instrument that has been developed in Canada over a period of five years, and is backed by empirically sound research. It is presented in authentic "workshop" fashion in that your participants do most of the work and discover insightful information about themselves and others. The workshops are highly interactive and fun!

Because Personality Dimensions is a self-discovery process, participants learn through discussion and sharing. Adult learning theory states that finding out for themselves through self-discovery, rather than being told, is more attractive to adult learners and makes their learning easier to remember and apply. Learning retention and application are very important to decision makers in any workplace environment. The training that we are providing for your staff will have a positive impact on the employees and make a difference to the company's bottom line.
